Advice to the Lovelorn

By Lorna Loon

Here I am again, all you beautiful coeds, just ripping to tell you the latest news. Without wasting any more time, I'll hand out the dope. (The first letter was written on Sadie Hawkins Day.)

Dear Miss Loon: Realizing that Sadie Hawkins will arrive in town any moment now, I am writing you in all desperation. Tonight there will be a wonderful spinster spree and since last Sadie Hawkins Day I have been looking forward to this glorious event with ever-growing claws. The fact is, Miss Loon, that last Sadie Hawkins Day, my catch slipped out at the last moment and left me stuck. Now, I'm not exactly a dream. I have a bad case of pimples, large nose which gets very red when I'm nervous and hair that seems to get in everybody's way including my own. I mean at last found a mouse—er—I mean a man who has consented to enjoy my company this evening, but all events point to ever-present fear of my losing this beautiful specimen in an episode similar to last year's. Please, Miss Loon, how can I be sure that this drastic event does not occur again?

Joik Jilting.
Answer:—It is quite evident why you are having immense difficulties at such passionate moments. Have you ever considered the reaction of the male at a flaming red nose or at an overwhelming mass of facial blemishes. There is my poor dear ignorant girl, something wrong with all women but the smart ones realize their faults. From your description of past events I have deduced that you are lacking the feminine appeal so necessary for all successful women. A good guess would be that you do not present a great attraction to men. Perhaps your personal attire and habits are your faults. It is not, then, maybe your personality is in error. There is these by your faults, my advice is to take Dr. Beutell's tone up pills and read my book "How to live with a dead pan face" and be successful. If all these fail I suggest you try developing your muscles.

Dear Lorne Loonie: What shall I do? I am desperately in love with three men, all different, and yet all of them so divinely attractive! And so fascinating! R-n has six fingers on his left hand, can you imagine that? He is tall, dark and rather thin. He has little physical resistance because he gets tired very easily, and usually sees me home from dances at midnight; then spends the rest of the evening sitting comfortably in our living room, resting his eyes in the darkness.

The second is tall, and so divinely blond! He has big blue eyes and they talk the language of love, because he is Norwegian you see and knows very little English. But I am teaching him.

The third is a short, stocky guy from the States, who used to be an amateur prize-fighter before he came to college. He has wonderful biceps! And such shoulders, he needs absolutely no padding in his coat! Oh Miss Loon I love them all! None of them have proposed yet, but I know they will, soon. Adm whitt will I answer?

Nana.
Answer:—My dear child, it is quite obvious that you are very immature and frivolous concerning matters of love — If not a little confused. You are not in love with these three men — you are in love with love and actually enjoy your confusion.

But to get down to specific matters — do you enjoy holding hands with R-n, personally it would give me the shivers. Of course it you like differentiation in your men that's your pleasure. As for the blond fellow — perhaps you have been deceived by the look in his

Dr. Frances Baker Speaks On "Mathematical Models"

Professor Frances E. Baker of Vassar College will speak at 8.30 p.m. this evening, on the Baker Collection of Mathematical Models in the lecture theatre of the Redpath Museum, McGill University. The lecture will be open to the public.

The collection of models to be shown will include fourteen three-dimensional models. There will also be photographs projected by lantern of other models.

This is the first of a series of three lectures to be given at McGill this year by visiting mathematicians. The other two lecturers will be the distinguished Polish mathematician, Professor Zygmund, and Professor George D. Birkhoff of Harvard University, one of the outstanding mathematicians of the United States.

Cosmos Told of Trinidad Riot

Clive Gonslaves
Addresses Club
At Luncheon

Clive Gonslaves yesterday spoke to the Cosmopolitan Club at their weekly luncheon in the Union Music Room. A description of the Trinidad riots, which took place in 1937, was the chief topic of discussion, following an introduction to Trinidad consisting of a description of the island country and its physiological nature.

"The riots originated in the oil fields," stated the speaker, "and spread throughout the whole of the island including Port-of-Spain." The speaker then discussed the causes of the riots. The oil well laborers struck first, refusing to work even when police forces were summoned. The feeling of unrest spread to the sugar plantations and then to the railroads and the cities. "It was at its worst on the sugar plantations," said Gonslaves. The speaker followed with a discussion of how the riots were stopped and the measures taken by the Imperial Government to prevent such outbreaks in the future. Clive Gonslaves was born in Trinidad where he served in the Militia at the outbreak of the war. He is at present studying medicine at McGill and intends to practise in Trinidad and the West Indies after attaining his degree.

Shown by Posters
By RUTH MARCUSE

Over two hundred students and many consular representatives attended the exhibition yesterday on "Occupied Europe Fights On" which is continuing today and tomorrow in the ballroom of the Union between 10.00 a.m. and 6.00 p.m. It is under the sponsorship of the Cosmopolitan Club and the Student Labor Club.

Keen interest in the exhibition was shown by the various consuls who came to see the

SLC Program For Tonight Includes Movies

Club Nomination,
Activity Report,
Complete Evening

Movies, election of executive officers and discussion of program and policy for the forthcoming year will be the highlights of the Student Labor Club meeting tonight in the Grill Room of the Union at 8.15.

"Century of the Common Man," a film dealing with the well-known speech of Vice-President Wallace and prepared by the National Film Board will be presented. "Women Are Warriors" is another movie which shows how women are taking an increasingly important place on various war fronts in England, in Russia, in Canada and elsewhere. In spite of changes brought about by the war, the British Ministry of Labor enforces high standards of working conditions. "Welfare of the Workers" shows how the welfare of a typical girl factory worker is safeguarded. One of the latest films to be made by the National Film Board is the "War of Man's Mind" which will also be presented.

Elections of a new executive will take place. Nominations are open for the positions of president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, educational director and publicity manager. Each nomination must be endorsed by two members. Since the Student Labor Club carries on its activities right through the summer the executive stated that discussion and formulation of the club's future policy and program is of immediate importance.

A review of the Club's past activities will be given and plans drawn up for future activities. A club bulletin stated: "It is very essential that all club members attend this meeting since important decisions as to club policy and program will be made."

CAMERA CLUB MEETS TONIGHT

The regular meeting of the Camera Club will be held in the McGill Union tonight at 8.15 p.m. Mr. L. G. Rachele will describe and demonstrate the Art of Bromoil Printing.

British Council Limits Awards For 1944-45

According to information received from a member of the Scholarship Committee of McGill University, the British Council has announced that its Dominion Scholarships, previously open to men and women, will for the remainder of the war period be open to women only.

A letter recently received from the Council stated that it wishes to give specially qualified women graduates of Dominion Universities an opportunity to study war time conditions in Great Britain. To accomplish its purpose the Council is offering four scholarships of three hundred dollars each. Also included with the scholarship is return train and ocean fares to Great Britain.

The letter said of the Scholarships that their object is to encourage specially qualified women and to provide an opportunity for them to observe the war time organization of the fields in which they are particularly interested. Their fields should be directly connected with the war effort.

The preliminary selection of the Canadian Universities, and the final selection by the National Conference of Canadian Universities. Applications for these scholarships must reach the Registrar of McGill University before the end of February, 1944. Further information may be obtained from the Registrar's Office.

COTC Members Asked to Attend 'Six Hour Dance' in Gymnasium

The C.O.T.C. announced today that in place of the annual A. Wing and B. Wing dances a gala evening will be held Friday, March 10. This event will be for the students who take their drill six hours per week and hence will be called the "Six Hour Dance." The event is to take place in the main gym of Sir Arthur Currie Memorial Gymnasium.

The Executive has announced that they have arranged a very interesting program for the evening, in which there will be a show as well as the dance. They promise that the show is composed of the best talent in the city but they wish to keep the nature of it as a surprise for the event itself.

This dance is a closed affair with only the students who take six hours drill a week being invited. Refreshments will be served and the whole event is presented to the students free of charge. All in all the executive expects the 500 members of the six-hour a week group to attend. They also wish to point out that this dance has no connection with this Friday's eleventh and twelfth platoon dance.

Professor Lednicki Speaks On Russo-Polish Situation

This week the Polish Institute of Arts and Sciences has arranged two talks to be given in Moyse Hall. The first lecture will be given tonight by Professor Wladyslaw Lednicki, lecturer in Slavic at Harvard University. At 8.15 sharp Dr. James Principal and Vice-Chancellor of the University, who with Msgr. Olivier Maurault, Rector of the University of Montreal, is honorary co-president of the Institute, will introduce the speaker.

The first lecture will deal with "The Historical and Political Background of Polish-Russian Relations and their Present Aspect." On Thursday evening, Professor Lednicki will discuss "Polish Traits and the Life and Culture of Poland in Polish Literature."

Professor Lednicki has been recognized as one of the leading authorities on Russo-Polish Slavic problems. He is best informed as to the cultural relations of Russia and Poland though he has published articles in French Russian and Polish on the political situation of Eastern Europe.

Helen Morton Addresses SCM

'Students of Today,
World of Tomorrow'
Is Lecture Topic

"Students of Today and the World of Tomorrow" will be the topic of an address to be given by Miss Helen Morton at an S.C.M. Luncheon today at 1.00 p.m. in the S.C.M. House.

Miss Morton has travelled in many different parts of the world and has been associated with student work in Canada and the United States for a number of years. She is at present a vice-chairman of the World Student Christian Federation and is in charge of the W.S.C.F. Toronto Headquarters.

All students wishing to have lunch at the S.C.M. House are asked to call P.L. 1156 before 12 noon. Those who cannot come for luncheon may come at 1.30 to hear the speaker. The talk will be open to all students, faculty members, and the public.

Guess these language profs are pretty smart. Another member of the French department spent a happy hour with his fourth year group tearing apart a book review. By the time he'd finished and the class was dismissed, the students were wondering just who had had the nerve to publish such a review. Finally one gal is brave enough to ask, "Please sir, who wrote THAT?" "Eh," sez the prof very blandly, "I did."

COTC Dance Sponsered This Year By Eleventh, Twelfth Platoons

A dance sponsored by the third and fourth year Science platoons of No. 3 Coy. McGill C.O.T.C. will be held next Saturday night, February 26. It will take place in the C.O.T.C. Officers Mess and is timed to start at 8.30 p.m.

In the opinion of several C.O.T.C. officers such a dance bringing together as it does the men from only one company, most of whom know each other, would be much more enjoyable than the monster troop-show and dance type of event such as was offered last year. Acting on this idea, the cadets of 11 and 12 Pls. formed a committee to deal with the question, the result of which is the present dance.

The committee wishes to thank Colonel Morris for permission to use the Mess and also Major Morris for his invaluable assistance.

Refreshments will be served at intermission and the Mess will be open for soft drinks and perhaps beer if there is a sufficient amount. Music will be provided by the latest recordings. The dress for the occasion will be uniform and soft shoes. Tickets are free and may be obtained from the Orderly Room or from R. D. Stewart and M. Saffran of the Committee. All cadets in Nos. 11 or 12 Pls. are welcome.

Macc Circle, Avukah Hold Joint Meeting

Michael Garber
Will Discuss
College Life

On Sunday, February 27, the Maccabean Circle and Avukah will hold their first joint meeting of the year, at which Mr. Michael Garber, K.C., joint president of the Canadian Zionist Organization will speak. His topic of discussion will be "College — A Way of Life."

Mr. Garber is a former student of McGill University where he took his Law degree. While at McGill he was president of the Maccabean Circle as well as being active in many college societies. In his discussion, Mr. Garber will analyse the present role of the Jewish students with relation to the University and the community as a whole. A discussion will take place immediately following the address.

The recent trip of the Maccabean Circle to Queen's University was a great success, the executive announced. Joe Sabbath and Tamar Shine represented the club and took part in the Symposium on Zionism. The students were shown around the Queen's Campus by the Hillel Foundation executive board, and the McGill representatives visited the main sights of the town.

Plans for the forthcoming banquet will be discussed, as well as the progress being made towards the establishment of a Hillel Foundation at McGill.

The meeting is scheduled to take place at 2.30 p.m. in the McGill Union. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

R. V. V. NICHOLLS TO SPEAK

R. V. V. Nicholls, assistant professor of chemistry at McGill University will address the Cole des Neiges and Snowdon Women's Club on Tuesday at 3 p.m. in the N.D.G. Community Hall. Modes in Plastics will be Dr. Nicholls' topic.

Marxian Theories Subject of Talk

Sociological Society,
Political Science Club
Hold Joint Meeting

The theories of Karl Marx in the fields of Economics, Politics and Sociology will be discussed at a joint meeting of the Political Economy Club and the Sociological Society being held on Thursday at 8.15 p.m. in the Union grill room. Short papers on each of the three topics will be read by students, and a period of discussion will follow.

The economics of Marx are to be dealt with by Werner Schott, fourth year honours student, who plans to pay special attention to Marx's doctrines as they may be applied to modern business cycle theory. David Schwartzmann will speak on Marx's political ideas, criticizing the theory of the state in the light of the contemporary situation. The sociology of Marx will form the subject of a paper by Tim Wilson, who will emphasize particularly the Marxian theory of social classes.

"The doctrines of Marx have had a far greater influence on subsequent thought than is generally realized," stated the president of the Political Economy Club in explaining the object of the meeting, "and his ideas and theories have penetrated into fields far removed from their original sphere."

"We hope to show at this meeting, from an entirely scientific and impartial standpoint, how far some of these highly controversial ideas have any practical meaning in our own time; and of what use they may possibly be to the contemporary social scientist," he added.

The meeting is open to all interested.

Freshette Chorus Heads Arts and Science Hop Next Tuesday Evening

Barbara Whitely, Betty Wilson
Help Student Dance Executive
In Entertainment Preparation

A Freshette Chorus will be featured at the Arts and Science Leap Year Hop, which will be held on February 29, at 9 p.m., in the Union Ballroom. Among the other entertainment presented will be a skit by the Freshmen, and a monologue by Miss Barbara Whitely.

The Freshette Chorus will feature "eight shapely Freshies," attired in suitable costumes, and, a routine which has a kick to it," said the Executive. Harriett Anderson, will be in charge of the chorus.

Scripts Submitted

Various plans and scripts have been submitted for the Freshman skit, but the Executive stated that the final choice has not been made yet. They added that details of the two events will be kept secret, in order to give the entertainment a surprise quality.

Miss Barbara Whitely will give a monologue, Miss Whitely gave a monologue, entitled "Red Cross Nerts" at the last Red and White Revue, in 1940. She was chosen by Stephen Leacock, as his personal monologist. Miss Whitely's monologues are broadcast regularly over station CBM, and she has made numerous appearances at troop shows, and other local entertainments.

Betty Wilson Aids Executive
Miss Betty Wilson, daughter of Chancellor Morris Wilson, has been assisting the Executive of the dance. Miss Wilson is a talented actress, and has appeared on the Broadway stage. She played the lead in the M.T. production of "Watch on the Rhine."

The executive of the dance emphasized that the event was planned for all years of Arts and Science. "Many people," they stated, "think, that because it is organized by freshmen, the dance is only for freshmen. That however is wrong. We planned this dance for the whole Faculty, as a gesture of cooperative spirit between the different years. We have tried to get boys and girls working together, on all the committees, as a further symbol of this cooperation."

Following the address, the meeting will be open for discussion and refreshments will be served. All interested, whether they are students of philosophy or not, are invited to attend.

McGill NDHL Hockey Squad Defeats Sailors, 4-3

Moncel Stars in Nets; Macken Sinks Winner; Brodrick Outstanding

Redmen Back in Win Column By Virtue of Sparkling Play Against Strong Middle Squad

By HERB SHAYNE

McGill's happy band of ice warriors crashed through into the charmed win circle with a resounding 4-3 victory over the Navy entry in last night's regular N.D.H.L. fixture. It was only necessary to go into the Redmen's dressing room to see that the squad had just emerged triumphant. Gone was the atmosphere of gloom so noticeable in recent weeks. It was as though a new team trooped in after the game. Everyone was shouting and laughing. The well-wishers came over to congratulate Andy Moncel. Andy had just turned in a colossal performance in his debut in the McGill nets.

"Great game, Andy," they enthused. Moncel just sat there with a happy grin on his face. Lorne White, who was no mean goalkeeper himself, came over and patted Moncel's sweat-covered brow. He too had that contented look on his face. Lorne isn't the loquacious type of puck mentor but anyone could see he was very well satisfied with the performance his charges had just turned in. "First time Lorne's laughed in weeks," quipped Bruce Ward, who if had turned in a corker of an iron-man showing.

His helpmate, Bob Brodrick, just sat there and smiled. He too had performed brilliantly in his full game stint. Even Harry Grimes the trainer, who has seen plenty of fighting McGill games, was in a bright mood and when Harry's happy, the boys know they have gone some to win. Jim Macken, the lad that came home with the bacon in the form of the winning goal, was easily the happiest guy in the room.

Navy Scores First

Anyway, the first period gave little intimation of the sizzler of a game that it eventually turned out to be. Play started off at a ragged pace but the pucksters eventually settled down to some real hockey, and by the eight minute mark Navy drew first blood when Belanger picked up a pass from Gibson and rammed it in the short side. But two minutes later, Bill Allen faked a pass to Costigan and deftly put it by Daoust to tie the score.

With the second period, play reached a torrid pace and continued that way for the remainder of the tilt. As the period opened, Moncel booted out a screamer that zoomed in from the blue line and while the Navy applied the squeeze continued in his brilliant form. When "Chopper" Ward took a banishment to the penalty box for tripping, Andy rose to brilliant heights in keeping the puck out of the cage.

With over two-thirds of the period finished, Hale nabbed a puck that had caromed out from behind the nets and lammed it at the Navy goal and while Daoust got a piece of it, Johnson just gave it that extra little shove that pushed it into pay-off territory. However, the official scorer gave the goal to Hale on an assist from Johnson, although the main thing is that it went in. Hale then celebrated by garnering a hooking penalty and again Moncel scaled the peaks of brilliancy to keep McGill's lead safe till the end of the period.

It was really the last canto, however, that left the fans gasping as first the Navy took the lead and then the Collegians came back to garner the laurels. On a deft passing play engineered by Gaye Stewart, former N.H.L. star, helped along by Bert Lilley and finished off by Pettit, the Navy knotted the point and then threw consternation into the Redmen ranks with a beautiful 35-footer that just barely clipped the corner as Lilley shot from inside the blue.

Rogers Scores
McGill was not determined to be outdone and with a little more than half of the frame gone, Allen sent in Gagnon, who, following in his own shot, picked it up behind the nets, slipped it out to Rogers and the latter made no mistake in tugging the score. As Ward was penalized once more, again Moncel kept the Red and White in the running by kicking out shots three and four in a row. At this stage, Brodrick created a bit of excitement by lifting a puck into the crowd and clipping a pretty WAAF but nothing was harmed except her pride and play resumed.

The piece de resistance was saved

Intercollegiate Swimming Meet On March 1

McGill, Toronto Participate; to Telegraph Results

On Wednesday, March 1st, McGill and Toronto will participate in their first Intercollegiate Swimming Meet since the cancellation of such fixtures shortly after the outbreak of the war. In this meet however, neither team will leave its own city and hence no C.I.A.U. war-time regulations will be violated.

The Toronto team will swim at the Hart House Pool and the McGill team at one of our local pools. Both meets will get underway at 8:30 p.m. sharp and at the expiration of each event the times of the first two men will be exchanged by telegraph. In this way it will be possible to place the competitors in the order in which they finish and also to keep a running score of the points won.

The events will be as follows:—
1. 300 yds. Medley Relay (100 Breast, 100 Back, 100 Free)
2. 50 yds. Free Style
3. 100 yds. Back Stroke
4. 100 yds. Free Style
5. 100 yds. Breast Stroke
6. 200 yds. Free Style Relay (4 x 50 yds.)

Each team is limited to ten men and no individual may participate in more than three events (excepting the relays).
To eliminate or reduce timing errors both Universities are using qualified C.A.S.A. officials and will use three synchronized watches on the first man and two on the second.

At the termination of the final event both universities will exchange total compilations of points and the final results will be announced.

McGill swimmers are holding their practices at the Central Y.M.C.A. Pool every Monday and Thursday at 5:30 p.m. Every swimmer is asked to be out to the next practice. for the last two minutes when Jim Macken finished off a picture play by scoring the winning counter. Bob Brodrick grabbed the disk at McGill's defense, worked it into centre ice and passed to Johnson. The CAUC ice man carried it into Navy territory, fooled the defense and gave it to Macken and the latter left no doubt about the outcome as he jammed it into the nets to send the McGill supporters home deliriously happy.

For stars, we nominate Moncel, Brodrick and Ward with two swell showings on the defence, Bill Allen, Johnson, Hale, Costigan and Macken on the front line going particularly well. For the Navy, Lilley, Pettit and Paulsen were the best.

Lineups:
McGill: Moncel, Brodrick, Ward, Hale, Costigan, Johnson, Allen, Franks, Macken, Patrick, Grant, Gagnon.
Navy: Daoust, Harvey, Mann, Buchanan, Gibbon, Paulsen, Taminien, Meyer, Belanger, Lilley, Demchuk, Pettit, Munn.

On March 2 clinicians giving the course at McGill will be Prof. A. W. McClelland, Prof. D. P. Mowry, Prof. D. E. Cameron, Prof. G. Leahy, Dr. D. Leigh, Dr. A. R. Winn, Dr. M. L. Donigan, Dr. J. Morton, Dr. R. Sellers, Dr. A. G. Racey. On the evening of March 2 a dinner which will be attended by both the University of Montreal and McGill University dentists will be held in the Cercle Universitaire, when the

Most Valuable Player Trophy Awarded to Leo Rosentzveig

The value of Leo Rosentzveig to McGill's Senior M.B.L. cage quintet was recognized last night in the announcement that he had been awarded the Duquette Trophy, awarded to the player voted most valuable to his team for the season. Leo has turned in consistently starchy performances and finished the season but three points behind Dikofsky, flashy Oiler veteran, in the race for scoring leadership.

Rosentzveig has sparked the Red team on every occasion, and his fine floor leadership and generalship have been responsible for several McGill victories. His fellow players themselves realized his worth by granting him the signal distinction of being elected acting captain, a fine tribute to his playing ability and team-spirit.

Last year, Leo played on the Services squad but easily accomplished the task of bridging the gap between the lower loop and the faster type of ball played in the Senior game. He continued his fine performances to earn himself acclaim as being one of the better boys to sport the Red and White on the basketball floor. Leo is at present in his second year of Law and is expected to return to the fold next year.

Leo picked up his basketball-know-how at Baron Byng High School and under the capable hands of the coaches out at Queen's University. However, the finishing-up process, the smoothing of the rough points and instruction into the savoir faire of the cage game was accomplished by capable Coach Van Wagner, who was quick to recognize the potentialities of the budding star.

Rosentzveig is another one of that numerous class of athletes who shine at more than one sport. Besides being adept at bouncing the balls into the nets, Leo is a capable hand at bashing that elusive little piece of celluloid sphere over the net in that invigorating sport of ping-pong. He's gone quite far in this field, picking up one or two Provincial championships along the line.

However, it seems fairly certain that Leo will make his mark in the athletic firmament in his first love, basketball. Along with the rest of the aggregation, he is confidently looking forward to the play-offs against the Georgian team and the Dadds trophy match against the Oilers.

DOWN MEMORY LANE

In November, 1934, the Interprovincial football season ended with the renowned Toronto Argonauts and the mighty Montreal Wheelers tied for first place. The playoff for Eastern Canadian Champion was scheduled for Montreal. Ten thousand fans thronged the Molson Stadium to watch these clubs battle on the snow-packed field. The players came out on the field wearing gloves to protect their hands from the cold. For the red and blue of Montreal, shifty Gordon Perry and Carl Perina usually dependable quarter back were to be relied on. Leading the double blue Scullers was the line stalwart, the late Tommie Burns and doing the booting was Ad Box who was playing the game with a broken nose.

Paced by Huck Welch's kicking and Perry's elusive backfield running the Montreal team, underdogs in the game, went into an early lead. However as time passed on the mighty Argos gained momentum and at the beginning of the last quarter they had assumed a 7-6 lead. Then in this see-saw battle the Wheeler plays began to click and precious yardage was gained in play after play. It soon became evident that it was a race against time with the Montreal team seeming the likely victor. Finally they worked their way to the one yard line with two minutes to play. The quarter-back called the signals; the ball came back and Perina fumbled. The Scullers recovered and Ad Box hoisted a sixty yard punt to ease the pressure. The game ended two plays later and from there on the Argos went on to win the Canadian Football Championship.

HOCKEY NOTES

Les Canadiens have continued their record breaking pace swamping the hapless Rangers in two games this week-end. These four points brought the Canadiens a new point-mark for the club breaking the previous high of 60 amassed in 1931. Top men in the recent climb of the Canucks have been Elmer Lach, Mike McMahon, Maurice Richard and Buddy O'Connor, who cause the fans to reminisce on such names as Howie Morenz, Battleship Ledue and Aurel Joliat. As the Canadiens daily increase their margin over the second place club, the Detroit Red Wings, there is every reason to believe that the record of the Boston Bruins, seventy-two points in forty-four games, will be equalled if not surpassed.

BASKETBALL RESUME

The McGill Senior Hoopsters after a mediocre showing at the beginning of the season have really begun to travel. Snowed under by all their opposition they have finally hit their stride defeating Ottawa, Sir George and the Airmen, irregardless of Joey Richman, Mr. Jinx, Now, after having secured a playoff position, they face the strong Georgians who will be at full strength, starring Armstrong and Brenhouse, two of the league's leading scorers. As well, regardless of the outcome of this series, McGill faces the Oilers in a fight for the Dadds Cup. The Georgian Series starts tonight and it is up to every student to back their team to the one championship that still rests within their grasp this year.

Dental Faculty Sponsor Lectures

Refresher Course To Be Given At McGill, U. of M.

A "refresher course" for graduate dentists of Montreal will be given at McGill University and at the University of Montreal on March 1 and 2. English-speaking dentists desiring to take the course, which will deal with dentistry for children, will register at McGill and French-speaking dentists at the University of Montreal. Sponsoring the course, in addition to the two universities, are the Canadian Dental Hygiene Council and the Oral Hygiene Commission of the College of Dental Surgeons of the Province of Quebec.

On March 2 clinicians giving the course at McGill will be Prof. A. W. McClelland, Prof. D. P. Mowry, Prof. D. E. Cameron, Prof. G. Leahy, Dr. D. Leigh, Dr. A. R. Winn, Dr. M. L. Donigan, Dr. J. Morton, Dr. R. Sellers, Dr. A. G. Racey. On the evening of March 2 a dinner which will be attended by both the University of Montreal and McGill University dentists will be held in the Cercle Universitaire, when the

U. of T. Lays Post-war Plans

Improvements, Extensions Are Called For

Plans for new buildings, extension of existing ones and the security of additional equipment are being laid now by the University of Toronto in preparation for the post-war period, according to the report of the president, Dr. H. J. Cody, for the year ending June 30, 1943.

Improvements called for include a new chemical engineering building and an extension of the existing one, a women's gymnasium and athletic and social centre, and additional guest speakers will be Hon. H. Groulx, Minister of Health for Quebec and Dr. H. E. Hoff, chairman of the biological sciences group of the faculty of arts and sciences McGill University.

On March 3 Prof. George Morgan, of Milwaukee, well-known specialist in dentistry for children, will be the lecturer at the McGill course. The committee in charge of arrangements for McGill is composed of Dr. A. G. Racey, chairman, Prof. D. P. Mowry and Dr. W. G. Leahy.

Navy Trip Flyers 3-1 In Intramural

Allen Sinks Two for Tars In Upset Win

Sparked by G. R. Allen's two goals, the Navy ice squad came through with an upset 3-1 triumph over the Flyers in yesterday's Intramural semi-final playoff. The victory advances the Navy to the finals and eliminates the Flyers from further competition since the fray was a sudden death affair. The result of the joust was all the more surprising since the Navy had failed twice on previous occasions to topple the Flyers, who wound up the regular season in first place.

The powerful Tar aggregation, displaying some of the early season form that had marked them as strong contenders, played canny, defensive hockey for the initial stanza, allowing the U.A.T.C. contingent to come to them. Bill Nimble, in the Navy cage, showed up particularly well in this session as he turned aside several dangerous Airmen thrusts. The bell bottomed trouser lads failed to register a shot on MacEachran in the Flyer nets and for a time it seemed that it would be a question of just how many the losers might score.

Allen Opens Scoring

The victors continued their defensive policy in the middle period but came out of their shell near the half-way mark when Laurie picked up the pill at centre ice, passed over to Denovan who worked it into the corner and zoomed it out to an alert Allen waiting in front of the cage. The latter made no mistake in lifting it over the prone Flyer goalie for the first marker of the game.

The U.A.T.C. boys came back to the attack and pressed continually but the smart hockey of Chalkin and Barbeau backed by Nimblean felled all their efforts, especially when the Navy were down to four men on the ice. However, Wodehouse sneaked one by the Navy goalie to tie up the score but Denovan climaxed a neat Barbeau-Allen passing play to make the count 2-1 for the Navy at the end of the period, the final frame saw a desperate Air Force trying to knot the score but Allen came through with his second marker to put the issue beyond all doubt.

The excellent team play of the Navy can not be stressed too strongly. On paper, the Tars form a not too potent group but reputations failed to dazzle them as they calmly proceeded to outsmart, and out score the supposedly superior Flyers. Allen flashed some of the hockey he is capable of and Laurie and Denovan ably assisted him. On the defence, the trio of Barbeau, Chalkin and Nimblean proved almost unbeatable. For the Flyers, Knight and Whitehead came out with steady games.

Commandos Play Army

Today's encounter sees a chastened Commando team take on the high-flying Army boys in the second of the sudden death games. The Army slashed through to a startling 10-6 win over their C.O.T.C. rivals and feel confident of coming through again today. On the other hand, the Commandos, still smarting under the trouncing, have pruned down their squad considerably and have promised to come out with only the pick of their group in an effort to cop the honors.

dition to the Banting Institute and a new central heating and power plant. "Towards the erection of some of these, we have money in hand or in prospect; for others we shall need financial help," says the report.

In reviewing the events of the year Dr. Cody notes that a School of Chinese Studies has been established and says that arrangements have been made "for carrying on a summer school in the Chinese language." The president also calls for further development of the university's department of Latin American studies in view of closer relations between North and South America.

With reference to the faculty of medicine, Dr. Cody says that "the faculty is seriously considering the permanent shortening of the medical course from six to five years, not by cutting down the contents of the course, but by shortening the holidays."

SKI RESULTS

Favored by excellent snow conditions, McGill ski contestants turned out last Sunday to uphold the honor of their respective faculties.

The downhill was held on the St. Sauveur Run followed by the slalom on Hill 71. The times in the downhill were fairly good; Bob Everson took top honors in this event by flashing past the finishing flags in 51.6 seconds. Bill Nicholson and John Dohan were right on his heels, tying at 52 flat. Bob Hambrook, now with the U.S. Navy, opened the course with a very good 51.8. Joan Stanforth led the women, followed a second later by Mary Hambrook.

The slalom course was a fairly stiff one, and resulting times were not as good as the downhill. Opening the course were Lessard and Hambrook with times of 1.01.8 and 1.02.6 respectively. Peter Moore easily led the students with 1.03.8. Bernice Anderson brought home the bacon in the ladies' slalom, winning her class by several seconds.

Squash Play in Semi-finals

Draper, Bates Won Matches Yesterday

The squash tournament has now reached the semi-finals. In one of yesterday's matches, Draper beat Fancy. The game was close and exciting, and the issue was in doubt until the very end of the struggle. Draper thus advanced into the semi-finals against Schram, who is favored to win the tourney. In the other tourney match yesterday, Bates beat Osler. In the consolation tournament, Campbell defeated Cram, and Dorsey took the measure of Colpitts. The feature of the consolation tourney thus far has been the play of Flash Becker, who is developing into a fighting squash player.

Today's matches:
Rensaul vs. Marsh.
Stairs vs. Notman.
Tomorrow's match:

McGill Senior Cagers Begin Playoff Series With Georgians Tonight

Redmen Hold Edge Over Rivals; Intermediates Face C.A.U.C. In Opener of Doubleheader

The McGill Senior basketballers will take on the Georgian cagers tonight at the Gym, in the first of a two-game, total-point, semi-final playoff series. The game will start at 9:15. The Redmen expect to be in top form for the tilt. Last Saturday afternoon they trimmed the Corps of Military Staff Clerks squad by the score of 42-35 in an exhibition game, in which Kaneb, Leonards, Shacter, and Beland were outstanding. The McGill hoopsters have played the Georgians three times so far; they lost the first two games by extremely close scores, and routed their opponents in the third fixture. They therefore are looking forward to tonight's game with confidence, and are expecting to walk off the floor with a victory under their belts.

Redmen Confident
The first Georgian-McGill fixture, played early in the season, gave our rivals a 28-26 win. Rosentzveig, Davidson, Kaneb, and Deacon starred for the Redmen, while Moe Brenhouse scored 12 points for the Georgians. The Redmen ended up on the wrong end of the count again in the second game, 24-23. Red ace Rosentzveig topped the McGill scoring list, with Shacter and Davidson also turning in good games. The ever-dangerous Brenhouse, however, was again the individual star of the game, racking up an even dozen points. It was only in the third contest that the Redmen were able to turn the tables on their collegiate opponents, soundly trouncing them by a 29-17 score. George Davidson, starchy freshman, led the McGill scoring parade with eight points, being closely followed by Rosentzveig and Gerry Leonards, the veteran guards. Hudson, with five points, was the Georgian standout. The feature of this game, though, was the stellar work of Davidson in holding Brenhouse scoreless for the first time this year.

On March 3, the Redmen will face the league-leading Oilers in a battle for the Dadds Cup. This cup is awarded to the winner of the game between the McGill Seniors and the team which led the M.B.L. in the previous season. If McGill should defeat the Georgians, the Dadds Cup game will also involve the M.B.L. championship.

Intermediates Play C.A.U.C.
Tonight the Red Intermediate cagers will face the Army Course boys in the first game of a double-header. This is the last scheduled fixture for the Intermediates. The last game played between the Redmen and the C.A.U.C. resulted in a 29-23 win for McGill. Tall Ted Proctor starred for the Redmen with 14 points, and Novak stood out for the Army Course team with seven points to his credit.

Posters, maps, photographs, original works of art, costumes and cartoons reveal the fight of those Allied Nations which are temporarily occupied by the Nazis, against fascist tyranny. The display is divided into sections dealing with the following countries: Belgium, Norway, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Greece, Poland, Luxembourg, Yugoslavia, France, Holland and the Dutch Empire. Ten panels on the Netherlands have been loaned to the exhibition. Photos of France showing its scenic beauty, the valiant fight of its people and the staunch French fighter, General de Gaulle, are displayed. Belgium underground newspapers and paintings have been obtained. Scores of leaflets describing the backgrounds of the occupied nations and their efforts to combat fascism within their own countries are on hand for distribution to those who are interested. All the material has been obtained through the co-operation of the local consulates of the governments concerned. Admission is free and is open to all students and members of the staff.

STUDENT RELIEF AFTER THE WAR

The tremendous task of World Student Relief in the post-war period is underscored when one recalls that the task of student relief in World War I, involving the expenditure of several million dollars and affecting tens of thousands of students, took place in its entirety after the war.
A process of international consultation on student relief after World War II is under way. The European Student Relief Fund has prepared an excellent document with reference to the task in Europe in the post-war period. This document is now being discussed by all affiliated committees abroad. A final statement will be prepared when all comments are sent to Geneva. A similar document will be prepared for China and other parts of the world so that ultimately a program will be in mind for all sections of the complex and highly diversified undertaking known as World Student Relief.
The European document is so sound and far-sighted that it can already be assumed that many of its points will be universally approved for the entire World Student Relief enterprise. Accordingly, its general principles and methods of work are here briefly summarized in terms of the world task.

General Principles
(1) Post-war student relief should be considered and planned as a continuation of the relief work which has been conducted during the hostilities.
(2) The principle of impartiality in the giving of relief should be maintained. Only this principle has made it possible to work during the war in most belligerent countries.
(3) As during the hostilities World Student Relief should endeavor to help students in need whenever and in whatever way required. It should be ready to give material, social and intellectual relief, the program being adopted to the specific requirements in each concrete situation.
(4) The same organizational collaboration which has operated so successfully during the war should be maintained during the post-war period. Besides International Student Service, Pax Romana, and the World's Student Christian Federation, the way should be open for similar bodies to join, provided they accept the general principles and can make a real contribution to the work.
(5) World Student Relief should maintain its character as a private agency inspired by the ideal of student solidarity. This should not prevent its acting as an agency for the distribution of funds or other resources which governmental relief bodies may wish to allocate to students, provided World Student Relief can retain its full independence of action according to the principles stated above.

Methods of Work
(1) Internationally, the post-war relief program will be conducted under the supervision of the World Student Relief Executive Committee in which all affiliated organizations should be adequately represented.
(2) The work of the World Student Relief should be as individualized as possible so that each student realizes the spiritual meaning expressed in the relief he receives.
(3) The actual relief work, locally and nationally, should be entrusted as far as possible to university groups or individuals of the country concerned, in cooperation with international secretaries delegated by headquarters.
In a number of cases, however, there will be a great need for qualified relief workers coming from another country. In planning the distribution of foreign workers in various parts of the world, World Student Relief must take into account the special psychology and the problems of each country concerned. The type of worker—nationality, conviction, training, etc.—must be closely adapted to the special requirements of the field where he is to serve. The participation of carefully selected and well-trained foreign workers can be of great educational value and can contribute to the re-establishment of confident relations between university people of different nationalities. But the cause of international cooperation may be harmed by the unwise intervention of foreigners who, not having undergone the same trials, may find it difficult to adjust themselves to the mentality of those with whom they have to deal.
(4) The work of World Student Relief should be coordinated with the large relief actions to be conducted throughout the world by governmental relief agencies, as

Tomorrow afternoon at 5.30 the Interfaculty cross-country ski-race will get under way from the Chalet. The course is approximately four miles, and should be not more than enough to raise a supper appetite, specially for those stalwart M.O.C. And for those who were unable to participate in Sunday's downhill and slalom events lies the opportunity to gather up the laurels for themselves and their faculty. As it will be dark by 6.30, it would be well for all to get up on time.

Pat Monahan, scout for the St. Louis Cards, tells about a young prospect who applied for a job on a minor league team

"I'm a terrific hitter," said the applicant, "and besides I'm 4F and draft proof"

"What position do you play?" asked the manager

"I can pitch, catch, play infield or outfield I can manager or coach your team, take tickets, and act as trainer

"You're nuts"

"Sure, I'm nuts," said the applicant, "that's why I'm 4F"

—Western Gazette

While filling out an application for dependents' aid a colored soldier answered "no" to the question as to whether he had any dependents

"You're married, aren't you?" an officer asked

"Yes sir," the soldier replied, "but she ain't dependable"
